15 Commandant of the Philippine Marine Corps, before ultimately taking command of 16 the Reservist and Retiree Affairs, OJ9, Armed Forces of the Philippines; and

17       WHEREAS, while in the military, MGen. Eugenio V. Hernandez also took 18 time in continuing and completing his educational career: He earned his Masters in 19 Management from the Philippine Christian University in 1998; completed the United 20 Nations Integrated Mission Staff Officer Course convened by the Pearson
21 Peacekeeping Center in Nova Scotia, Canada in 2005 as a member of the pioneer 22 class; finished his Command and Staff College in the Marine Corps University and 23 earned his Masters in Military Studies in Quantico, Virginia in 2009; and earned his 24 Masters in National Security Administration from the National Defense College of the 25 Philippines in 2014 as a member of RC49, where he was awarded the Bronze Medal 26 for Academic Excellence and the Silver Medal for Best Thesis; and

1           WHEREAS, MGen. Eugenio V. Hernandez has held various garrison staff
2 billets throughout his military service: Chief of Staff of the Philippine Marine Corps, 3 Naval Provost Marshal, Chief for Plans and Programs of the Marine Corps, Chief of 4 the Mission Support Office, and Chief Logistics of the Armed Forces of the 5 Philippines Peacekeeping Operations Center; and

6           WHEREAS, throughout his military service, MGen. Eugenio V. Hernandez 7 continuously and tirelessly serves his home country and has been deployed on various 8 missions at home to perform his military duties to the best of his abilities. His 9 missions have seen him being deployed in multiple provinces in the Philippines to aid 10 in: settling long-running clan disputes; ensuring honest, credible, and peaceful 11 synchronized governmental and local operations; spearheading law enforcement 12 operations, as well as quelling threats to national security such as terrorism; and 13           WHEREAS, in addition to his missions at home, MGen. Eugenio V.

14 Hernandez has also gone on missions abroad through his military career, both to aid 15 those in need and as a leading military representative of his country: he was the 16 National Contingent Commander of the Philippine Contingent to the United Nations 17 Mission in Haiti in 2007, which helped to restore Haiti's democratic system; and was 18 Commander of the Armed Forces of the Philippines' Peacekeeping Operations Center
19 in 2016, that organized, deployed, and monitored Philippine Contribution to UN 20 Missions in Haiti and Pakistan; and

21           WHEREAS, MGen. Eugenio V. Hernandez has not only served his country 22 through military service but experience as well. His tenure as Commander for various 23 operations and deployments has given him the experience and wisdom to pass down 24 what he has learned to his subordinates, and held the position of Superintendent of the 25 Marine Corps Force Development Center in October 2017, who is responsible for the 26 training and education of the Corps; and

1           WHEREAS, MGen. Eugenio V. Hernandez’s military service has brought him
2 to meet various national leaders throughout the globe. While working as security
