We all know it has been a rough journey for you to get to this day and our biggest wish for you is that after you close this chapter you will live your best life however you want to (like babysitting your Grandchildren). We also want you to know that you are most deserving of this day because for many years you have been the backbone in our family and our greatest support system in all aspects of our lives. You have always made it your priority to ensure that the safety and well-being of your family comes first. After working at the Department of Public Works and serving in The United States Army, you have proven to be a prime example of a person who acquires strength, resilience, dedication, and heart in everything you do. You have taught us that work does not end when you arrive home. You worked hard away from us, and you worked hard when you returned to us. And for that we will be forever grateful. Although during our younger years we complained when you came home from work because we knew what was to come (slavery... ha ha) and now as young adults we realize that you were teaching us that if we want something in life, it will not be handed to us on a silver platter, but we must work hard to achieve our goals and fulfill our dreams. We look up to you for many things and for many good reasons. You are a very smart man with a big heart. We don't know anybody who knows the things you know or can do what you do. We can't say enough about how special you are, but we are very grateful to have learned, and to have lived, and to have loved the one person we call 'Dad'. Cheers to you on your Retirement! WE LOVE YOU, DAD! Love, Lena, Lawrence, Leann, and Lorenzo Jr."; and
