Relative to commending Relative to commending Dr. Lawrence J. Cunningham for his role in supporting the growth of the Richard F. Taitano Micronesia Area Research Center at the University of Guam, and for his many important contributions to the development of Micronesia scholarship and cultural awareness; and to further congratulating him on being recognized during the Fiftieth (50th) Year Anniversary celebration of the Richard F. Taitano Micronesia Area Research Center on August 21, 2018.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COMMITTEE ON RULES OF I MINA'TRENTAI KUATTRO NA LIHESLATURAN GUAHAM:

WHEREAS, Dr. Lawrence J. Cunningham, affectionately known as "Doc" or Larry, has made many important contributions to the development of Micronesia scholarship and cultural awareness; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Cunningham spent twenty-five (25) years teaching social studies and science classes at Igat Junior High School, Inangan Junior High School, Igall Santa Rita High School, and Oceanview High School, and he helped to develop the Exploring Guam class for ninth (9th) graders, which served as an early model for teaching Guam Natural and Social History before the commencement of Chamorro Week; were formally established; and

WHEREAS, Chamorro scholar and former University of Guam President Dr. Robert Underwood has stated that Dr. Cunningham is an early advocate of teaching Guam's natural and social history with a particular focus on ancient Chamorro society, who has published significant works that serve as the basic texts for researchers, with his perspectives and insights which have increased our understanding about Guam for over the past forty (40) years; and

WHEREAS, after his retirement from the Guam Department of Education in 1993, Dr. Cunningham continued his dedicated service in research and education to the region as a research associate at the Richard F. Taitano Micronesia Area Research Center from 1994 to 2007, as an assistant professor of history at the University of Guam until 2008; as a faculty advisor for the Traditional Seafaring Society until 2007, and as a Micronesia Area Research Center Co-Editor (Partner); and

WHEREAS, Dr. Cunningham, together with Master Navigator Manny Sikau, taught the HI450-G Special Topics in Pacific History, Traditions about Seafaring Islands in 2007 at the University of Guam; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Cunningham serves as the Historian for TASI (Traditions About Seafaring Islands), a non-profit corporation dedicated to reviving traditional Micronesia seafaring, canoe building, and non-instrumental navigation on Guam since 2007; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Cunningham is the author of Taitano Chamorro Society, 1992; co-author of A History of Guam, 2001; Guam: A Natural History, 2001; and Micronesia Texts for the K-12 Reader: A Victoria Guide, 2012, and he also co-authored "Restoring Traditional Seafaring and Navigation in Guam," published in the Micronesia Journal of the Humanities and Social Sciences in 2006, with Ward Kranz, member of the Guam Traditional Seafaring Society, and Master Navigator Manny Sikau from Pohnpei; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Cunningham has written many Marianas history articles for newspapers, magazines, and academic journals; and his research on the effects of expository and narrative prose on student achievement and attitudes toward textbooks was published by The Journal of Experiential Education, and reported in the fifth (5th) and sixth (6th) editions of Educational Research by Walter R. Borg and Meredith D. Gall; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Cunningham is also known as I Joseph, the woodcarver, who has created works carved in wood that depict symbols of Guam, some of which have been presented as official gifts of Guam to the heads of state of several countries, including the President of the United States; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Cunningham has traveled throughout the United States, Micronesia, Japan, Southeast Asia, India, Nepal, and Africa; and he has voyaged on a traditional Carolinian outrigger sailing canoe, including from Pohnpei in Chuuk State, Federated States of Micronesia, to Guam, always documenting his journeys through numerous vibrant photographs; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Cunningham's prior honors have included being the recipient of the Governor's Literary Arts Award, the Ancient Order of the Chamorro, Who's Who Among America's Teachers, the Dean's College of Liberal Arts and Social Sciences Excellence in Part-Time Instruction Award, and the Governor's Humanities Award; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Cunningham presented in the Chamorro Seafaring Lecture Workshop, which was held over two (2) days in July 2014, as a follow up to an earlier 2009 meeting among the Chamorro seafaring community to create a lexicon of terms for various aspects of traditional canoe-building, seafaring, and navigation; and where presentations included an historical overview of the seafaring tradition in the Marianas and revitalization efforts, and discussions of ongoing and new projects among the various Chamorro seafaring organizations; and

WHEREAS, in his presentation, Dr. Cunningham discussed a brief history of Chamorro-Micronesia seafaring traditions and revitalization efforts over the last two (2) decades, beginning with the movement and settlement of Austronesian peoples in the Pacific region, emphasizing the unique place the people of the Marianas have in this story as the first people to set out in their canoes and settle these islands; and

WHEREAS, in his presentation, Dr. Cunningham also paid tribute to many of the people from Micronesia who helped the rest of the Pacific rediscover their seafaring past and tradition, and in particular, the late Manny Sikau from Pohnpei, who was instrumental in helping the people of Guam build canoes, but also shared his knowledge of navigating by the stars, knowledge passed down to him from over seven generations of navigators; and

WHEREAS, with anecdotes and humor, Dr. Cunningham showed how the Chamorro people continue to find ways to perpetuate and promote their seafaring culture with new innovations and participation with the larger Pacific seafaring community; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Cunningham also helped to progress discussions about the depiction of the seafaring vessel, or galade, in the Guam Seal, encouraging the appropriate depiction of the important ocean-going vessel, which he describes as a "technological wonder"; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Cunningham received a BS in education and an MBA from the University of Cincinnati in 1965 and 1967, respectively, and earned a doctorate in education from the University of Oregon in 1987; and

WHEREAS, presently, Dr. Cunningham is deeply appreciated in the Chamorro community for his many contributions to the examination, documentation, and interpretation of Chamorro history, language, and culture; and for his tireless efforts to empower students to recognize our past and envision a brighter future; and

WHEREAS, Dr. Cunningham and his lovely wife Cheryl remain vital members in our local community and our growing seafaring societies; and

WHEREAS, the Richard F. Taitano Micronesia Area Research Center, also known as MARC, at the University of Guam will honor Dr. Lawrence J. Cunningham, historian, retired educator and former University of Guam professor during its fiftieth (50th) year anniversary celebration themed, "Navigating Our History to Chart Our Destiny," on the evening of August 21, 2018, at the Sheraton Laguna Guam Resort's Ocean Sierra Ballroom; now therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that the Committee on Rules of I MINA'TRENTAI KUATTRO NA LIHESLATURAN GUAHAM does hereby, in behalf of the lat rui ma sa and the people of Guam, commend Dr. Lawrence J. Cunningham for his role in supporting the growth of the Richard F. Taitano Micronesia Area Research Center at the University of Guam, and for his many important contributions to the development of Micronesia scholarship and cultural awareness; and does further congratulate him on being recognized during the Fiftieth (50th) Year Anniversary celebration of the Richard F. Taitano Micronesia Area Research Center on August 21, 2018; and be it further

RESOLVED, that the Speaker and the Chairperson of the Committee on Rules certify, and the Legislative Secretary attest to, the adoption hereof, and that copies of the same be thereafter transmitted to Dr. Lawrence J. Cunningham, to the Richard F. Taitano Micronesia Area Research Center, and to the Honorable Edward J. B. Calvo, I Uge'liben Chamorro.
