Relative to recognizing, commending, congratulating Mrs. Cynthia L. Naval on the occasion of her retirement from the Department of Public Health and Social Services after thirty-one (31) years of exemplary service with the government of Guam; and to further extending a warm and sincere Un Dangkolo Na Si Yu'os Ma'ase' to her for her dedication to caring for the people of our island community.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE COMMITTEE ON RULES OF I MINA TRENTAI KLÁTTRO NA LIHESLATURAN GUÁHAN:

WHEREAS, Mrs. Cynthia L. Naval, also known as Cindy, is the daughter of Richard N. Prelosky and Mary Doris Bergeon Prelosky. She was born on May 5, 1958 at Portsmouth Naval Hospital in Portsmouth, Virginia. Cindy celebrates her retirement with her son, James N. Naval; and

WHEREAS, Cindy's father had served in the U.S. Navy, which gave Cindy the opportunity to travel and live in various cities where her father was stationed; and at only six (6) weeks old, Cindy moved from Virginia to California, where she lived for the next five (5) years. Cindy then moved to Louisiana for a year, and a year later moved to Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. She eventually made her way to Guam in 1965 during the Vietnam War, and she attended what was then the Old Piti and the New Piti Elementary Schools—now Jose Rios Middle School; and

WHEREAS, after living on Guam for three (3) years, Cindy moved once again and lived in New Jersey, where she spent the next three (3) years; but her family loved Guam and they missed their Nimtz Hill home so much they decided to move back; and Cindy returned to Guam in January of 1972 and lived at the South Finegayan housing later that year; and

WHEREAS, after Cindy's father retired from the U.S. Navy in 1974, the family moved to Latte Heights; and Cindy transferred from Agat Junior High School to Deddon Junior High School. Cindy then attended John F. Kennedy High School and graduated in May of 1976, a week after Supertyphoon Pamela hit Guam; and

WHEREAS, Cindy furthered her education and graduated magna cum laude from the University of Guam in May of 1979, where she earned a Bachelor of Arts in Secondary Education, specializing in teaching Mathematics, English Language, and Literature. Later that year, in August of 1979, Cindy married Peter J. Naval, who was a Police Officer I at the time, and she started her public service career with the government of Guam working at the Department of Education in the same month; and

WHEREAS, after teaching math for four (4) years with the Department of Education, Cindy was awarded an East-West Center Participant Fellowship and she was accepted into graduate school at the University of Hawaii School of Public Health in December 1984. She received her Masters of Science in Public Health, with a focus in the area of Biostatistics. Cindy then returned to Guam and worked for the government of Guam again, this time serving as a Health Planner with the Guam Health Planning and Development Agency (Agency), where she conducted data management activities for the Agency; assisted with computerization of the Agency's data collection and other activities; prepared sections of the Agency's five (5)-year Health Plan and Annual Work Plan; prepared annual population estimates and projections; designed questionnaires and prepared reports of results for house-to-house sample surveys on health insurance coverage and maternal and child health activities; reviewed and edited the final report of the island-wide Health Status Survey conducted by the University of Guam for the Health Planning Agency; and she continued in this work until the Agency closed in October of 1987; and

WHEREAS, in 1987, Cindy transferred to the Department of Commerce and worked as a Planner III from 1987 to 1988, where she prepared annual population estimates and projections for Guam; prepared population articles for the publication of the Annual Economic Review; assisted with research projects of the Economic Research Center; assisted with the computerization of Department of Commerce activities and data collection; and she wrote chapters for and assisted with the editing of the first Population Monograph of Guam. Cindy remained with the Department of Commerce and served as an Assistant Coordinator, where she oversaw the operations of the 1990 Census of Population and Housing for Guam, to include testing, hiring, and training enumerators and office staff, monitoring office and edit staff, monitoring expenditures of the program, securing office space and equipment, preparing press statements, conducting interviews with the media, reviewing editing activities, conducting quality control activities, preparing estimated population counts for local government review activities, and monitoring Census office closure activities, including packing and mailing materials; and

WHEREAS, in 1993, Cindy transferred to the Division of Public Health of the Department of Public Health and Social Services, where she oversaw the operations of the Office of Planning and Evaluation; she supervised the Office of Vital Statistics; and she led, advised, and evaluated the planning activities of the Division of Public Health. Cindy was the State Coordinator of the Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System project, from 1994 to 2007; the State Coordinator for the Bioterrorism Preparedness and Response grant program, from 2000 to 2006; she was the Program Director in 2005, and the Data Manager, from 2001 to 2007, for the Breast and Cervical Cancer Early Detection Program; she was the Interim Coordinator of the Real Choice Systems Change grant activities, from 2001 to 2005; coordinator of the Rape Prevention Education grant activities, from 1993 to 2006; Interim Coordinator for the Traumatic Brain Injury Planning grant activities, from 2005 to 2007; she oversaw the Conrad State 30 Program for Guam; she collected, compiled and analyzed health data of the population of Guam for use in grant applications, program evaluation, legislation, and for use by private citizens; she prepared health indices for the population of Guam; she produced annual population estimates and projections for Guam; and she researched, applied for, and administered federal grants. Cindy was the recipient of the Honor Award Certificate from the National Center for Infectious Disease (CDC) in 2002, for her work with Burnese Asylums. Cindy has served as Division Head fourteen (14) times since 1997, to include a three (3)-month paid detail in 2005; and

WHEREAS, in 2007, Cindy transferred to the Department of Public Health and Social Services (DPHSS) Division of Environmental Health, where she oversaw the operations of the Bureau of Program Support and Information. She led the planning activities of the Division of Environmental Health, including the preparation, review, and updating of the Division's Five (5) Year Strategic Plan, and the development of the Geographic Information System (GIS) Plan. She reviewed, edited, and updated the Annual Report, including collecting, compiling, and analyzing program production statistics and preparing tables and graphs. Cindy researched and applied for federal grants and completed required grant reporting. She oversaw the operations of the federally-funded Prescription Drug Monitoring Program, the Foodborne Disease sections of the Epidemiology and Laboratory Capacity grant program, and the U.S. Department of the Interior's Technical Assistance Program grant projects. She was the team leader in the creation of the FileMaker Pro solution for mobile data collection in the field for the Division, where she remained for the rest of her government of Guam career; and

WHEREAS, during her career with the government of Guam, Cindy has had many memorable accomplishments, to include: after the transition of Inarajan Junior High School to a senior high school in 1982, Cindy was the Chairperson of the Math Department and helped start the school's chapter of the National Honor Society; from 1985 to 1990, Cindy was a team member who wrote Guam's island-wide health plan during her time at the Guam Health Planning and Development Agency; at the Department of Commerce, Cindy was a writer and editor of the first population monograph of Guam ("Guam's People: A Continuing Heritage 1920 - 1980"); Cindy was the Assistant Census Coordinator for the 1990 Census of Guam at the Division of Public Health, DPHSS; Cindy wrote the grant applications that started the Behavioral Risk Factor Surveillance System (1994) and the Bioterrorism grant (1999); Cindy was the Acting Chief Public Health Officer at the time of the KAL 801 crash in August 6, 1997; Cindy assisted in the Vital Statistics transition to the IMP'S software; Cindy took part in many terror response exercises and was asked to be an evaluator for a full-scale exercise in Hawaii; and she was part of the pandemic planning and was able to meet with the Surgeon General of the U.S. (Richard Carmona) on his visit to Guam. At the Division of Environmental Health, DPHSS, she wrote applications for grants for the Prescription Drug Monitoring Program and the Technical Assistance programs, and was part of the team that wrote the CIP grant for the Guam Environmental Public Health Laboratory; she led the FileMaker project and the legacy that it leaves behind; and she prepared the Division's Annual Report every year; and

WHEREAS, Cindy has gone through numerous trainings to include: Introduction to Applied Epidemiology, Using Epi-Info, ARC GIS / ARC GIS using Spatial Analyst, Managing Retail Food Safety FD215, GIS Training at Loma Linda University, Environmental Health Training in Emergency Response, U.S. Department of Justice Grants Financial Management Training, Healthy Homes Specialist, Certified Professional of Food Safety Training, Certified Pool/Spa Operator Course, Core Pesticide Application and Category 7 Pesticide Application; and

WHEREAS, Cindy has numerous certifications to include: Certified Professional - Food Safety (National Environmental Health Association - since 2013); Healthy Homes Specialist (National Environmental Health Association - since 2013); Certified Pool/Spa Operator (National Swimming Pool Foundation - since 2013); and Commercial Pesticide Applicator (Guam Environmental Protection Agency - since 2013); and

WHEREAS, Cindy's defining accomplishment as a government of Guam employee is having spearheaded the computerization of data at Public Health. The routine collection of data - program, statistical, and outcome - allowed her to produce information that was useful for measuring progress, describing trends, and setting goals; and

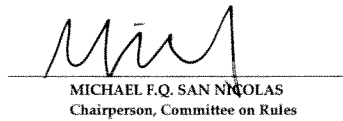

WHEREAS, after she retires, Cindy plans to take a short vacation, as well as study for and take the FileMaker certification exam; and she plans to take courses to become a certified data scientist and start a consulting business. She is proud of having worked for the government of Guam, and hopes to be remembered as someone who has provided exemplary services to the people of Guam; now therefore, be it

RESOLVED, that the Committee on Rules of I Mina Trentai Kuáttro Na Liheslaturan Guåhan does hereby, on behalf of I Liheslaturan Guåhan and the people of Guam, recognize, commend, and congratulate Mrs. Cynthia L. Naval on the occasion of her retirement from the Department of Public Health and Social Services after thirty-one (31) years of exemplary service with the government of Guam; and does further extend a warm and sincere Un Dángkolo Na Si Yu'os Ma'åse' to her for her dedication and commitment to helping the people of our island community; and be it further

RESOLVED, that the Speaker and the Chairperson of the Committee on Rules certify, and the Legislative Secretary attest to, the adoption hereof, and that copies of the same be thereafter transmitted to Mrs. Cynthia L. Naval; and to the Honorable Edward J.B. Calvo, I Maga'låhen Guåhan.
