Dear Vice-Speaker Nelson:

Thank you for the opportunity to be here today on behalf of the Guam Education Board to testify in support of Governor Lou Leon Guerrero's nominees for the Guam Education Board — Mr. John Burch and Mr. Ray Chargualaf, Jr. As you know, the GEB is comprised of nine voting members, six of whom are elected by the public and three of whom are appointed by the Governor with the advice and consent of the Guam Legislature. At this point, there are only four elected members, including Chairman Mark Mendiola, myself, Ms. Lou Benavente, and Mr. James Lujan. This leaves two elected positions vacant for which the Governor may nominate members to fill these vacancies for the remainder of the term. Dr. Ron McNinch is currently the only remaining appointee, serving as the business community representative. The Governor may nominate individuals to fill the appointed vacancies reserved for a parent and a retired educator.

We urge the Guam Legislature to act quickly in considering and approving the nominations of Mr. Burch and Mr. Chargualaf to the GEB. With only five members on the board now, all five GEB members must be present at every official meeting in order to meet the minimum quorum requirement as well as the minimum number of votes needed to take any action. Any absence, illness, or delay threatens our ability to conduct business, and this has been our challenge over the past few months. Having two additional members on board as quickly as possible will help immensely.

It is no easy task to be a member of the GEB. We may meet once a month for our official meetings, but we also hold numerous work sessions and community meetings as part of our effort to engage all of our stakeholders. The fact that Mr. Burch and Mr. Chargualaf have agreed to be nominated already speaks volumes to their commitment to children and public education. We look forward to them joining us in the near future.

Thank you for the opportunity to provide testimony. Si Yu'os Ma'ase.

II. SUMMARY OF TESTIMONY & DISCUSSION

The public hearing was Called-to-Order at 9: 36AM

Vice Speaker Telena Nelson called on the appointment of Mr. Ray P. Chargualaf, Vice Speaker Telena Nelson: Please state your name and your position.

Mrs. Deidre Chargualaf: greeted the senators present. It is my privilege to speak on behalf of my husband, Ray Chargualaf, Jr. I am also his business partner and many things, his confidante, and his counselor, so I think I can speak on his qualities and skills in a light that maybe nobody else knows. I could tell you Ray's upbringing, his background, his educational achievements, community merits, accolades, and more that can stand alone in demonstrating his work ethic, but I'd rather tell you the qualities and skills he possesses that enables his success and how you may find it to be beneficial as an appointed member of the Guam Education Board. I remember a quote by Woody Allen. 80% of success is showing up, and funny enough on the way over here, I asked him, "Are you ready for your public hearing?" and he said, "All I know is the Governor asked me to show up, and I'm showing up." He had no idea I was (going to) speak today on his behalf, and I can't help but relate this to my husband. If there is one thing I've seen by his side it's his commitment to showing up and putting in the work that needs to be done. I've seen him show up for one person and give just as much attention as he does when shows up for a crowd. He's a creative thinker, always critical in the next step of his goals and always willing to make difficult changes. Ray sees a new way in doing everything and what may seem obvious to us, Ray has the ability to see the obscure. He envisioned the road not traveled and possesses the courage to set a direction to achieve any mission. He has solid judgment and wisdom that has been tested time and again in his multiple business ventures. He has extensive experience in tough situations, has accepted failure, been turned down over and over again, and he is here before you today, selected by the Governor of Guam because he's intelligent enough to know that only through experience, dedication, and showing up do we succeed in the long run. Ray believes in what is right, not what is norm. He is not easily influenced. He expresses himself with candor and practices impartiality and decision-making. His ability to connect with people and at any level or in any setting is a quality I most value in him, one I believe opens the most unlikely opportunities and is without a doubt his most endearing quality. Lastly, Ray has a desire for learning constantly in search of personal and professional growth, his achievements include merits in higher education but believes learning happens as much outside the classroom as it does within. My husband carries a genuine desire to give back to the island of Guam and the people of Guam deserve devoted and accountable board members. I am confident Ray will bring value to the Guam Education Board in more ways than one, and I hope you confirm his appointment today. Si Yu'os Ma'ase'.

Maria Gutierrez: Thank you Madam Vice Speaker. The testimony I handed in earlier is the same with Mr. Burch, but like I say, I was telling Mr. Chargualaf the first time I met him was this morning that we are very excited and happy for him to join us, and he will be the baby of the board, the young ones. We're all manamko there, but I know he's (going to) bring in a lot of good things, we heard a lot about him from outside that when we mentioned the name, said he is just the right person to be on the board. That's what we need, so we welcome him, and I again urge you and humbly request you to please expedite their confirmation hearing, we will really need them on the board.

Vice Speaker Telena Nelson: Thank you Mrs. Gutierrez. Mr. Chargualaf?

Ray P. Chargualaf, Jr.: Good morning everybody, Vice Speaker, all senators, members of the media, and the public that are here to attend. I want to state the obvious. I'm a fresh face. Everywhere I go like this, I just met a lot of people for the first time this morning, and the first I ever get is "You know, I know your parents, I know your relatives" and I'll be the first to say (that) I'm here to create my own legacy. I'm here to stand on my own, to provide the best service that I can, especially for this board, and it's an honor and a privilege for me to be here, to be nominated, to be appointed. What I want to do is explain a little bit about myself and give you guys background as far as why I'm here today and obviously, what I want to do when accepted to this position. So, I actually moved back on island with my wife and my family back in 2016. Like many people that leave the island, you know they go to pursue whether it be education or opportunities, and I always knew in the back of my mind that my passion and goal in life was to give back to Guam, and the reason why I decided to come back is because I felt that I have the tools, I have the experience, I have the confidence to bring back all the experience and knowledge to bring back to the community, so when I first landed in 2016, I decided to get a typical job. Within three months, I knew that job was limiting my capabilities on my skill sets, so I decided to create my own business. I always tell people if there's no opportunity, then create it. So that's what I decided, I decided to lead by example. I opened up my first business here on Guam in 2016, and like my wife said, whether one person showed up to my service or a hundred people, I'm (going to) give them the same benefit of the doubt. Within that first two months, I had three people show up and it turned into three hundred. Before you know it, it was enough for me to expand my business and create another business, so my first three years here on-island, I've created two businesses and offered at least forty to fifty people job opportunities here in addition to serving the community, the community members many of which I (have) seen just within my interactions here in Congress Building, which is my first time here, I saw so many different faces that I've interacted with on a daily basis. That's what I'm about, bringing the energy that I have and my experience to community of Guam. I've done it through business, now, I can bring that same work ethic, that same passion, that same energy into this position. I know people probably question what's my experience here, most of the people that I know that are on the board, they are either previous educators or they've had some type of administrative role within the Department of Education. I'm not ashamed to say (that) I'm a student still, which means I'm ready, I'm willing to learn. I'm willing to dedicate myself to any new challenges. I know that you know, when somebody first approached me about this position, and they asked me about it, I had told myself, I know there's a lot of different difficult challenges ahead of me because if I look at how many students, how many parents, how many administrators are in this island, and there's only (going to) be five people that's (going to) be representing that, that's a tall task to order for anybody. So for anybody, somebody to ask for me, let alone the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, to ask me to be part of this position, I told them I'll give everything I got. Everything I've ever done I've succeeded in, and I don't look at this any different. I also want to say, as far as being appointed to this position, as I really, all I look at is I'm the voice for the students, I'm the voice for the parents, I'm the voice for the administrators and the teachers in order for me to understand the problems, identify the problems, and eventually, I get solutions out of that. I have to go do all the groundwork and figure out what are the issues, what are the standards that we should be setting for the Department of Education and then how to do my job is how do we exceed those standards and expectations if we're looking at the US or I know you mentioned Hawaii, if we're looking at it as the standard for what Guam should be based on, then we need to see, are we there yet? If not, how we get there? If we are there, how do we continue to keep progressing in the right direction. That's what I want to bring to the table. Thank you.

Vice Speaker Telena Nelson: Thank you Mr. Chargualaf. I'll now open up the questions from my colleagues. Senator Taitague?

Senator Telo Taitague: Thank you madam chair, you know Ray, you spoken like a true strong dedicated southern boy, or should I say man. I'm a little biased because I'm from the south as well and I know your parents and your family. So I want to thank you for stepping up to the plate. Listening to what you had to say was a really good thing. What impressed me the most was when you said you created. I have a saying, create a great day, because you decide how you want to make that day being. So create a great day, I hope everybody says that from now on. Saying that is stepping up to the plate, is being proactive, by creating it. It's so important to hear you say that and the other thing, you bring to the table, your physical fitness. Your ability to work on individuals to get them healthy, because I believe a healthy body is a healthy mind and you bring that to the table. You're gonna make sure that sports are included, that this area is not forgotten. It really does make a difference to have something for children to have an outlet in that direction so I appreciate you coming and I appreciate your wife for allowing you to do this. You're gonna make a great asset to this board. Good luck to you and you have my full support.

Senator James Moylan: Thank you madam chair. Mr. Chargualaf, thanks for taking time out of your schedule, from your two companies that you're doing well at. I really like the name "Fat Boy Slim", I'm happy that you accepted the nomination, I'm looking forward to you bringing some great ideas as an entrepreneur and I'm sure the board is excited to have a new face and new energy. I'm looking forward to seeing your name on the next session floor and placing my vote.

Mr. Ray Chargualaf: Thank you very much

Senator Kelly Marsh Taitano: Hafa adai, so again it's good to see everybody here. I know that it takes time and effort to prepare so thank you for that. It's very good to hear about your successes and part of what I think is important is its been successes in a variety of areas. That shows your range of what you've tackled, what you can tackle and the experience that you bring from those. So I think that's a very good attribute. As what was mentioned, I think our educational system and our island youth, exercise is so important. Actually it was all through high school and even through parts of college, I thought I was gonna end up being a physical instructor. Didn't quite happen but I saw the value in that. What we're seeing today, is the youth at younger and younger ages, spending more time indoors and less being physically active. They are contracting diabetes, so we can see that it's really affecting our community and we need advocates that know how to support the importance of that, and how to develop programs that could reach out and serve them well. I'm thinking that perhaps your connection to setting up a business around a food truck that maybe there is some nutritional aspects. Perhaps that's another quality that you are bringing, its understanding some of that. We've had issues across the nations with how to best service and provide nutritional food in a quality way for our youth. The US as compared to every other country, we're really far behind and we don't do a good service to our youth. In looking at your experience, I think you, as perhaps all of us here, you've come through the ranks of our educational system on Guam. You understand from that perspective, it wasn't that long ago that you were going to Guam High. Having experienced being away, there's a very large Guam population that in Las Vegas, so maybe some of that diaspora experience of being away from home is going to be really helpful in many ways. So many people speak about learning to appreciate certain things that hone that they haven't realized until they were away. Maybe you could help us all remember those things or learn those lessons while we're here. My question will be if you have some visions as to what you might be able to prioritize or strength in our curriculum that you're hoping to champion. If you could explain what some of your vision is in that way

Mr. Ray Chargualaf: So first I want to make sure that I have to know what are the challenges and some of the obstacles that people go through at the board and issues that are brought up. As far as I know, I've heard thought a lot of people, there's a lot of issues concerning drop out rates, suicide, which I hear a lot of with many of the people I communicate with. I want to explore what are some of those major issues that are consistently occurring and how do we minimize those concerns. The only way we're going to get those answers is if we do the leg work and that talking with the parents, the students, the people that deal with these conditions everyday at the school. I'm willing to hit the ground running, going towards the schools, talking with parents, students and asking what are some of the issues that are consistently amongst all the high school, elementary and middle school. Once I gather all that data, it'll be easier to come up with a game plan in terms of how to minimize those issues. It could be, students are not being picked up at certain bus routes, what are some other opportunities that could prepare students after high school. Those are challenges I've experience where maybe it's not just the military, maybe its not college. Maybe its going through trades school or programs inside schools so they have a better direction as far as what students want to do outside or after school. When you have a vision or direction, it gives students more guidance more hope. Sometimes resources are not always available at home, maybe both parents are working or all kinds of conditions that may come up. Once that data is gathered, it'll be much easier to come up with a solution.

Senator Kelly Marsh Taitano: Thank you for your answer. I find it very thoughtful, which is important. Learning what the issues are and then approaching it in a methodical way. I think just hearing that, it's important to hear and understand how you operate. I think you hit the nail on the head, myself included even though I talked about wanting to be a physical education instructor. That gap between high school and college, I felt directionless in certain ways, and so I think finding ways to provide that direction to students is going to be really key. To connect them to trade schools, college, a career. Something that fits for them is important and really key.

Mr. Ray Chargualaf: Maybe somethings that I wanted to add was, I wanted to provide resources, meaning I see a lot of people thinking that they have to go off island to get the type of education, opportunities that I feel Guam already has. If they have the confidence, something tangible, those are resources that I feel would be valuable for someone in high school most especially. Whether it would be textbooks, sometimes the teacher to student ratio is not suited best for the students because the teachers cannot handle 50 students in one classroom and have the same type of information disseminated to having a classroom with only 10 students. Those challenges exist out there, I'm excited to tackle them head on, I'm not afraid to get dirty to figure out those issues and provide resources available. That'll be my priority.

Senator Kelly Marsh Taitano: Again, it's very good to hear that answer and hearing that your mother is an educator, it also gives me an extra insight. That gives you more depth because you grew up in that experience and you have that connection to those family members now. So si yu'os ma'ase' for your answers and I look forward to having your energy on the board.

Mr. Ray Chargualaf: Thank you.

Vice Speaker Nelson: Thank you Mr. Chargualaf for accepting this appointment, I appreciate your drive and your passion and the tenacity to get things done. I definitely look forward to the work you can produce in the board and the fire that you can ignite to assist the teachers and students better and when you do get a chance, go ahead and look up 17 GCA, Chapter 3 and look up what you could do as a board member. Some of the things that you are allowed to do within the limits of the law. Our staff is reviewing these areas and trying to see if we can make policy changes to give the board a little more authority. I want to thank you again, I know it could be challenging to come in to something unknown. Perhaps it's a good thing so you're not biased and so fourth. So I welcome the fresh perspective, so thank you very much. Thank you to your wife for supporting you, otherwise you couldn't have done thing without her support. Thank you Mrs. Chargualaf. Have a good day.
