My name is Krishnan Seerengan (no middle name). Friends call me Kris. I was born and raised in a place called NuwaraEliya, Sri Lanka. This town is located 5200 feet above sea level and has it's nick name "Little London"

Being the first born in the family of six siblings, the attention turned on me for responsibilities. Mostly, the childhood days were with both sides of my grandparents, since I was the eldest grandson for both sides of my grandparents. They were very hard working folks who taught me to be honest, fair and to work hard.

As my parents, my siblings and I spoke the language called 'Tamil' which, was one of the national languages in Sri Lanka. I completed the elementary, middle and high school in my mother tongue, Tamil, and learnt English as a subject in the schools. There were no libraries in the elementary and high schools. I attended a Catholic School to complete my high school education.

During my young age, I became a Seventh-day Adventist Christian and attended church every Saturday. Changing my religion helped me to move from home to attend a two year college in the central part of Sri Lanka. There I completed two year college with a diploma in Accounting in English medium. During my early college days, I was fascinated by the number of books that I found in the library. Shelves after shelves, filled with books created my curiosity. I managed to find time to go to library and read. I started working in the library to complete my requirement of work experience. Later I was able to become the librarian after completing the training at British Council Library and American Center Library in Sri Lanka. I also taught social studies and Tamil Language for 9th grade and 10th graders. All the students who wrote the government standardized exam passed with flying colors as a result of my effective teaching. (Teachers are evaluated based on the number of students who passed the National Board Exam.)

Later, I moved to Guam to attend college and graduated with business management as major and library science as minor from the University of Guam. Also, I earned 33 credits towards my graduate degree in Education from the University of Phoenix. Recently, I earned a scholarship to get a MS degree in Information Science specializing in Digital Content Management from the University of North Texas. I graduated on July 19, 2013 along with 25 students from Guam, Saipan and other Micronesian Islands.

During the college days, here on Guam, working at Robert F. Kennedy Library as library technician gave me the vast knowledge about the library. My interest turned to Encyclopedia Britannica and I became an employee for selling encyclopedia. In 1981 and 1982, my sales became the highest in US and I was named "No: 1 - Encyclopedia Sales Man of the year" for those two years.

After college, career opportunity landed on me to develop Simple Food Restaurant. The degree in business management helped me a lot in handling the restaurant. During this time, I was able to expand the restaurant operation in terms of space and menu with the vision that it would become a successful restaurant. Today it is one of the successful, flourishing and popular restaurants on Guam. In 1986, I started "Nuts and Grains" Health Food Store to help those who seek health food on Guam. My intention of opening health food store is to help people who wanted to live a healthy lifestyle. In 1992, a branch was opened on Saipan. Later, sold both the businesses in 1996 and kept the whole sale business until 2001. During that time, I supported 14 employees. Most of the employees stayed with me from the day I started the business until the day I sold the business. Today "Nuts and Grains" continues serving the community of Guam with the same mission. When I had the business, I occupied myself in many community activities. The high light of my business career was to help handicapped students from John F. Kennedy High School. There was at least one handicapped employee throughout my business activity. One employee stayed with the business for 10 years.

I felt that nothing would bring joy to my heart except being in the classroom. Having discovered that, I became a full time teacher in 2001, teaching computer science at Southern High School till 2008. In the fall of 2008, I moved to JFK to continue serving the community as a teacher. When I arrived in JFK, I saw the condition of the library and felt the students at JFK deserved a better library. As a displaced school, I worked as librarian under difficult circumstances. I am grateful for the opportunity they gave me to design the library for the new campus. The floor plan I created and the furniture I recommended made the JFK Library to become one of the best libraries on the island. I enjoy being a Librarian and helping the students and faculty at JFK. Our library plays a crucial role in terms of providing all the resources for the teachers and students. As an experienced teacher, I know what it takes to become an effective teacher.

For the last two years, I volunteered to help Eloise Sanchez in grant writing for CNI and assisted FSAI Office.

Believing in the idea that getting involved with students outside of the classroom would give an opportunity to relate the students better, I became the coach and assistant coach for tennis at Southern High and JFK High School.

I am blessed with two children who were born and raised on Guam. Both are college students and they consider Guam as their home as I do. My family is proud of my achievements in Guam.

The people of Guam have been wonderful to me and my family in many aspects of our lives on Guam. I feel that I owe something more to the community. When I arrived on Guam in the year of 1979, I did not know anyone on Guam. But a Chamorro family took me in and treated me as one of it's own family member without charging any penny for my expenses. Later that family became the part of my family. I cannot thank enough for their hospitality and love they showed to someone whom they never saw and met before. There is no place in the world that will give me joy, happiness and fulfilling life the way Guam has given me in the past 34 years. I am grateful to God, my family and Guam forever.

I am technologically gifted and I love to work with people from all walks of life. I am a people person and I enjoy team work. In the spirit of love, peace and brotherhood, I want to dedicate myself to become a part of this Guam Public Library System Board and help any way I can to serve better. I believe my expertise will be a real asset to the Board.

Hafa Adai Speaker Won Pat and members of the Subcommittee on Education & Women's Affairs:

I am providing testimony for Mr. Krishnan Seerengan as he seeks to serve as a member to the Guam Public Library System's (GPLS') Board of Directors.

Mr. Seerengan's experience in library science and his business acumen will lend well to GPLS' growth in our community. His strong understanding of library operations as well as his management skills will keep the library on track as a new facility is currently underway. His experience as a secondary school teacher will add value to GPLS as we develop our "tween" population so that we see more high school students using the library not as a place for social gatherings but a place with rich resources that will give them the knowledge to succeed beyond highschool.

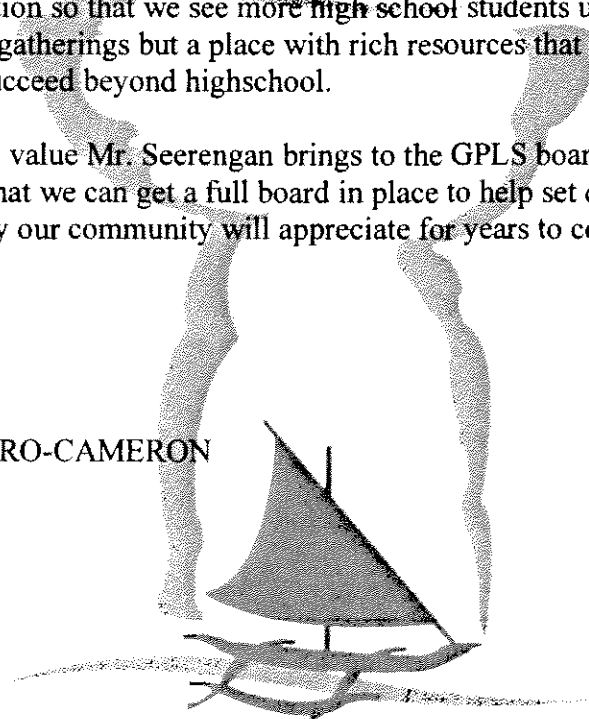

Recognizing the value Mr. Seerengan brings to the GPLS board, I urge that you accept his nomination so that we can get a full board in place to help set direction for the new state-of-the-art facility our community will appreciate for years to come.

Senseramente,

To: Judi Wonpat Borja <amanda@judiwonpat.com>

Dear Senator Judi Wonpat Borja,

My name is Kenneth Murphy. I am a math teacher at John F. Kennedy High School. I will be teaching a class at 10:00a.m. tomorrow morning and I will not be able to attend the public hearing for the appointment of my good friend, Krishnan Seerengan, to the Guam Public Library System Board. So, I am emailing you to express my complete and enthusiastic support for Kris.

Kris's credentials are impeccable And, his accomplishments as a librarian, teacher and businessman are exemplary. He is a librarian. As a teacher, he knows the needs of the children and students, the end users of our library system. As a successful businessman, he possesses excellent problem solving skills to work on behalf of the library system.

Kris is a very religious person and his religion demands that he serve his fellowman. So. Senator, let him serve.

Thank you very much.
Kenneth Murphy

To Whom it may concern:

The following is a personal testimony of my acquaintance with Krishnan Seerengan. My name is Michael Castro, and I am a full-time faculty member at John F. Kennedy High School since 2001. I first met Kris in the library at the GWHS campus while JFKHS was sharing the campus with GW in 2008 as the Tumon Campus was declared a danger zone.

My initial meeting with Kris gave me the impression that he is very approachable, very helpful, and a very kind man who would go out of his way to get you the help you needed or at least guide you in the right direction to get it.

However, don't be misled with Kris' kind and humble demeanor. Although soft spoken and meek as he goes about his routine in the library at John F. Kennedy High School, he is also a very educated, professional, and very hard working individual. I've learned that he was a teacher at Southern High, for many years, and I have seen how Kris has taught and handled students under his care and supervision in the library at JFK. I have observed how students respond positively and responsibly to the work required of them. Just leading his library staff through the difficult task of relocating the library from GW to the Tiyan campus, and then finally relocating back to our Tumon home, has been one heck of a mission. I've also learned through my conversations with Kris that he is an entrepreneur through his business background. He not only owned and operated businesses, but he started them from the ground up. He obviously possesses a strong drive to accomplish his personal and professional goals. Some of those business start-ups are still in successful operation today.

Kris' background experience in education, owning and operating his own businesses, has benefitted the students, staff and faculty at John F. Kennedy High School. Kris does very well in connecting with faculty, staff and administration as I see him visiting with the JFK family.

The library that exists today at the new campus is largely due in credit to the vision of one man. His dedication to excellence, attention to detail, and the steady consistent drive to accomplish the goal has yielded rewards within the library at JFK that the JFK community is now enjoying. The library continues to grow. It continues to grow through the addition of rich resources in the form of books, magazines, electronic media, and the influx of the community that come through either to share their expertises, or simply to enjoy it's amenities. It is with no hesitation that I strongly recommend that Mr. Krishnan Seerengan be appointed to the library board, that the people of Guam may continue to benefit and enjoy the unselfish and untiring contribution that Kris and his family have already given for so many years.

Thank you.

RE: Support the Nomination for Mr. Krishnan Seerengan for the Guam Public Library System Board

Hafa Adai!

This is a written testimony on behalf of Mr. Krishnan Seerengan, who is currently a School Librarian at John F. Kennedy High School. I support Mr. Seerengan on his nomination to the Guam Public Library System Board. I have known Mr. Seerengan in his capacity as the School Librarian at John F. Kennedy High School and have had the pleasure of working with him professionally on several School Library Program Projects. In August 2012, Mr. Seerengan was a committee member on the development of a grant entitled "Innovative Approaches to Literacy." While writing the grant proposal, Mr. Seerengan was able to share not only his knowledge about the School Library Program, but he also brought information about national implementation on the use of technology within various school districts.

Should you have any questions, please contact me at 687.5202.

Sincerely,

Eloise R. Sanchez,
School Program Consultant
