Re: Submission of Testimony in Support of the Confirmation of Stephen Tenorio Jr. to Serve as Board Member for PBS Guam.

Dear Chairman Cruz and Committee Members:

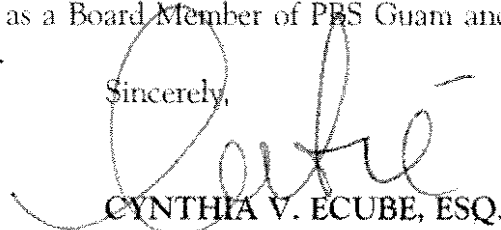

My name is Cynthia V. Ecube, and I am a solo practitioner licensed to practice law in all local courts of Guam, and in the Federal District Court of Guam. I am pleased to appear today to present my testimony in support of the confirmation of Stephen Tenorio Jr. to serve as a member of the Board of PBS Guam.

I have known Mr. Tenorio for approximately five (5) years both on a professional and social level. Mr. Tenorio obtained his law degree and served as counsel for Guam Legal Services, as private counsel with Unpingco and Associates LLP, and more recently, as Judge Advocate General (JAG) with the U. S. Army Reserve. As a legal advocate, he has demonstrated a good working knowledge of the law while zealously representing the rights of his clients.

Prior to his legal career, Mr. Tenorio has had vast experience in the area of education and had obtained his Master's Degree in Education. Throughout his life, Mr. Tenorio has always expressed his commitment and passion towards public service, social justice projects, and historical and cultural education. He is a highly motivated individual whose goals is to increase educational outreach through his contributions as a writer and his involvement in historical documentary projects.

Based on his vast experiences and commitment to educational outreach, Mr. Tenorio will be an instrumental individual to serve as a Board Member of PBS Guam and strongly support his nomination to serve with PBS Guam.

Sincerely,

CYNTHIA V. ECUBE, ESQ.

Buenas yan Hafa Adai Chairman B.J. Cruz and members of the Committee on General Government Operations and Cultural Affairs.

I am honored to provide this testimony for Stephen Tenorio as he seeks legislative confirmation to serve as a board member for PBS Guam.

I have known Steve since 2007 when his name first came up with my former employer, Guam Community College, as we were searching for a guest speaker for our 2007 Commencement. While I didn't know anything about him or why I had to seek him out, the management team at the college thought he would be a great guest speaker for GCC's commencement exercise.

In meeting with Steve to make arrangements for his debut at the college, I learned that he completed his GED program at GCC and then went on to graduate from law school while caring for his daughter as a single parent. As an adolescent, Steve is what we would call in our professional an at "At Risk" student who survived his adversities.

Upon completion of law school, Steve came back to Guam working with Guam Legal Services and then as a lawyer for a well-known law firm on Guam. He decided to follow his passion, leaving the legal field to write a book as well as work on producing a documentary that is still in the production phase of its creation. Steve has also written a couple of grants with the National Endowment of the Arts to seek funding to produce other local programs. His interest, commitment and passion in learning more about public television will help us grow the station. Knowing the value Steve brings to PBS Guam, I ask that you endorse his confirmation to the PBS Guam Board of Directors.

Hafa Adai Vice Speaker Cruz,

I present to you this letter of recommendation for Mr. Stephen Tenorio to sit as a member of the KGTF/PBS Board of Trustees.

Mr. Tenorio has accomplished much in his life thus far. After having passed his GED, he earned his Adult High School diploma from Guam Community College. He then became an officer in the U.S. Army, attended law school and joined the JAG Corps. Currently he is focusing his considerable talents on preserving and perpetuating the Chamorro culture through writing and through the production of a documentary about the Chamorro people for PBS.

Mr. Tenorio captured the essence of the Chamorro culture in his first novel, An Ocean in a Cup. He has used the novel as a teaching tool by conducting volunteer discussion sessions with classes at GCC and around the island. His second novel is currently in production, and he is working with the GCC Visual Communications program on certain aspects of his documentary.

Mr. Tenorio's talents and his love of and respect for the Chamorro culture will make him a valuable asset to the KGTF/PBS Board of Trustees. I definitely recommend his confirmation as a board member.

Re: KGTF/PBS Board of Trustees Appointment Written Testimony – Stephen Tenorio

Dear Senator Cruz:

I have been pleasantly informed that Mr. Stephen Tenorio has been nominated for appointment to the Board of Trustees of KGTF/PBS. I am writing in support of his character and qualifications for such a position, as I have known Steve professionally for the past four years.

Steve is currently a Captain in the U.S. Army Reserve here on island. We are often in contact, and prior to his employment in the Army Reserve, he was a member of the Guam Army National Guard serving under my supervision. I am thus in a position to comment on both his character and his background. I have nothing but high regards for Steve in both of those areas.

I find Steve to be an intelligent and inquisitive individual who is captivated by the arts and humanities. He has a creative mind and can provide unique perspectives on events and human behavior. As an author, his fictional account of Guam just prior to the 20th century was historically impressive. I believe his interest in humanity and the arts would serve the island extremely well in the capacity as a member of the KGTF/PBS Board of Trustees.

Steve's character is solid. He has been an enlisted member of the Army and an officer. He is presently a Judge Advocate (attorney) responsible for the legal affairs of the U.S. Army Reserve on Gnam. I have dealt with him frequently and I find him to be both intelligent and reliable. He has both initiative and follow-through. He would make for an admirable addition to the KGTF/PBS Board of Trustees.

I trust the above information will be of assistance to you. Should you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact me.

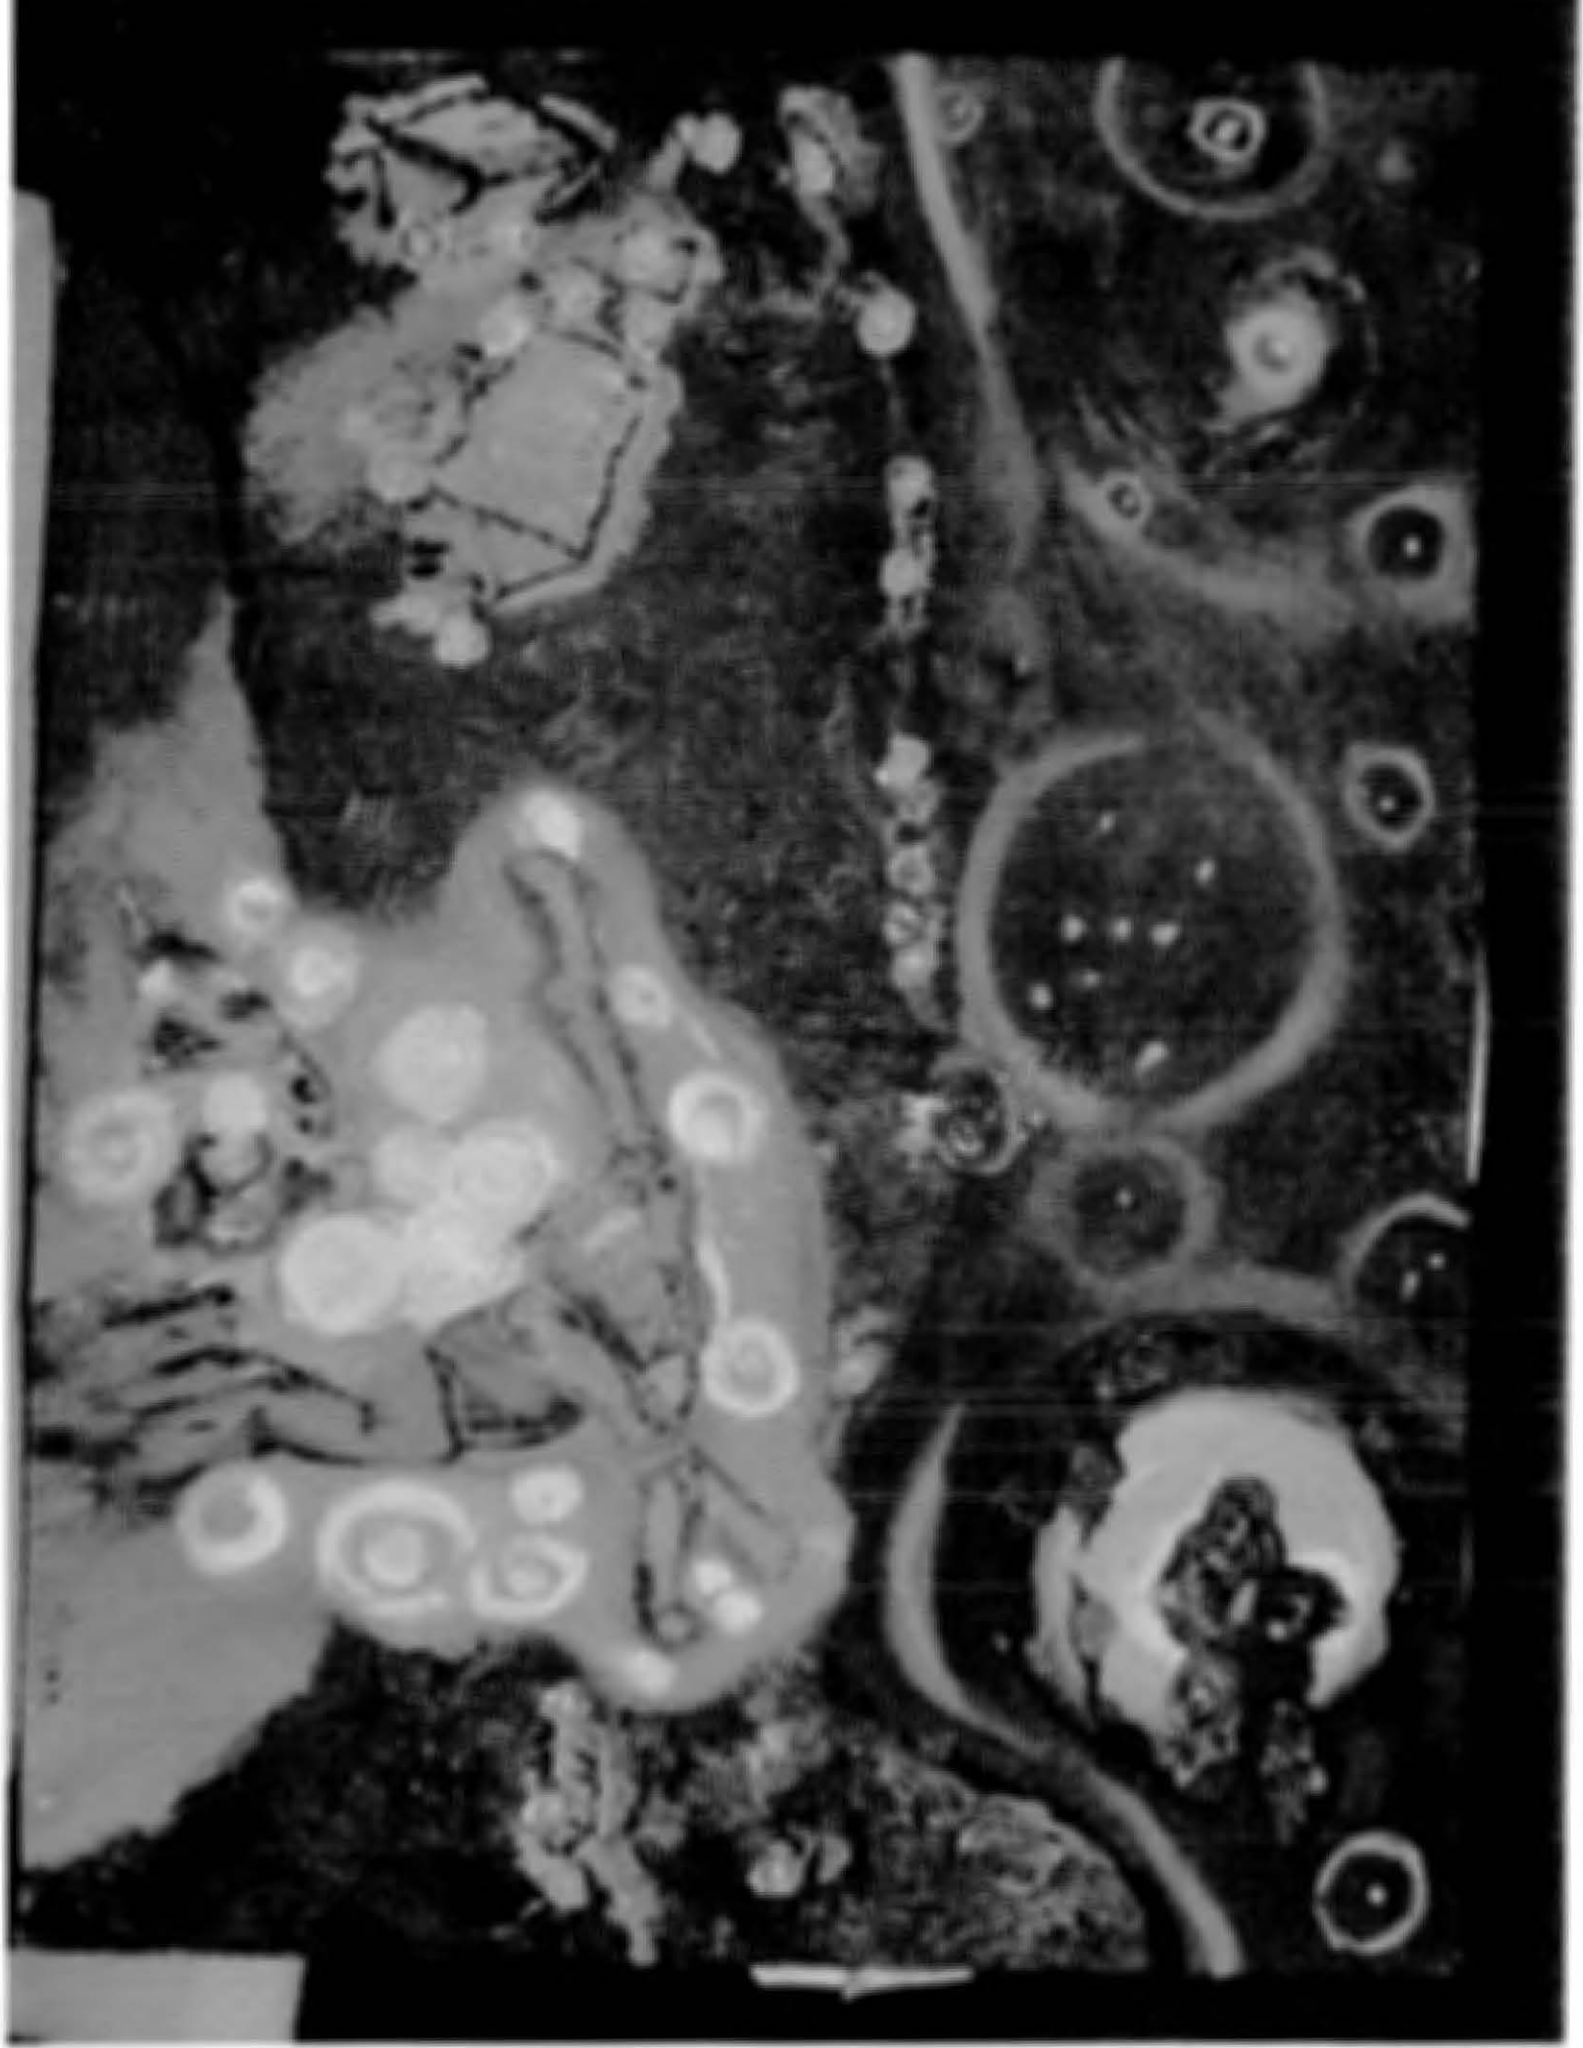

Sincerely,

David B. Riano

RE: PBS Board of Trustees Nomination

Honorable Senator BJ Cruz,

Foremost it is an honor to be nominated to sit as a Board of Trustees for PBS Guam. I think this best way to bring my qualifications, interests, and character to light is to provide the following narrative: As a single parent, I raised my daughter in Guam and Seattle, during this time I received a BA in English, a Masters of Science Degree in Education Technology, and a Juris Doctorate. I returned to Guam and practiced for several years until I decided when my daughter became an adult, to pursue my passions in the Arts. In the last two in half years, the path of pursuing my passion in Arts has led me to this nomination.

Currently, I completing my second book, a sci-fi/fantasy Novel, the Editing component is completed (funded by Guam CAHA). Also, I am done with my first set of oil paintings, which I hope to have a full exhibit by early next year (see attached). And, I am working towards completing my first documentary I filmed in Washington State about the Village Concept experienced in Guam and its benefits on children and society. It is an effort that I am working on with the assistance of Guam PBS and UOG/MARC.

My efforts in putting this documentary together has guided me through the technical, academic, professional, administrative, and programmatic aspect of filming. As a result of this immersion, I have submitted two fellowship and one grant application earlier this year in partnership with PBS and UOG/MARC to the National Endowments of the Humanities to fund the pre-production of three different documentaries all related to Guam. It is my intent to submit one of the applications to two other funding opportunities this August.

In the process of writing for the fellowships and grants, I learned a great deal about the productions process PBS is engaged, the community and audience it serves, and the administrative structure in which PBS operates.

Perhaps most enlightening is my experience in Washington state filming, February of this year. I met young and old independent film producers. Seemingly, the trend is that independent producers are becoming more the norm because affordable technology has made the film industry more accessible. In my discussions with PBS workers in Seattle, their struggle is picking completed documentaries ready for viewing to sponsor and showcase because the submission from independent producers are frequent.

These independent producers helped me in providing feedback and insight to making films. These successful independent producers, to name a few, were store clerks, teachers, waiters, and blog writers who completed documentaries and films during their free time. Instead of PBS and local governments subsidizing six figure grants to create educational public films and productions, the trend was that independent producers were absorbing the small costs, work, and production and then seeking assistance for distribution of the film, with the exception of competing for large grants for large scale productions. I do believe Guam is ready for this dynamic.

On Guam, I have met students from GCC's visual and media high school program while discussing my efforts to create a documentary, and received assistance from their post-secondary program graduates. So from an institutional level, we are creating a base competency to harvest an active media and interactive social network community that PBS can engage like in other PBS affiliated areas.

I hope that my education and knowledge as a lawyer and teacher can help in developing PBS to be as competitive as other PBS affiliates. And to perhaps one day fulfill the implications of an observation made by an independent producer who commented to me: Guam PBS seems to have the best advantage, all around, in doing the documentaries and film productions of the Asia, Oceania, and Micronesia region more than any other PBS affiliate or learning broadcast company.

Sincerely
